To Whom It May Concern,

On October 10, 2001 our community had the opportunity to host Dr. Steven Sroka in our public schools. Dr. Sroka made presentations to the primary, intermediate, junior high, and high school classes, relating an age appropriate message of abstinence to sex, drugs, and violence.

I have heard many positive comments from teachers, parents, and youth about these presentations. I feel that Dr. Sroka did a great job of reaching the students with his message. I observed a deep sense of caring in how he communicated with the youth, both in front of the large group, and whenever he came in contact with a youth individually.

It encourages me to know there are people who have the gifts, courage, compassion, and the willingness to dedicate their lives to this type of work.

Dr. Sroka is dedicated to educating youth so they can and will make healthier choices.

Sincerely,
